Mir. Munford went on to say that these citizens were entitled to consideration at the hands of the Council. He spoke of the joint use by the Richmond Railway and Electric Company and the Richmond Truction Company of Laurel street, showing that a route running a part of the way down Laurel street and thence going through Cregon Hill in loop fashion, would touch every part of that section of the city.

THE MOST DESIRABLE ROUTE. Although the time allowed the opposi-tion had not been consumed, the Council agreed to hear representatives of the Traction Company twenty minutes, and President John Skelton Williams address-ed the hody. Mr. Williams said in the outset that First and Cary streets route was the most desirable one to be had, behere. COMMISSIONERS DECIDE NOT TO ELECT POLICEMAN NOW.

Plenty of Applicants, But the Necessity Not Urgent-Mr. Daffron Resigns as President of the Bolters' Club-Personals.

The Manchester Police Commissioners held a called meeting last evening to elect a new man on the police force, but after mature consideration the commission decided that owing to the present condition of the city's financies, together with the fact that there is no special emergency, they would take no action at present, but leave the matter open for

It will be remembered that at the last meeting of the Council the Police Commissioners were given the privilege of adding temporarily one man to the police Accordingly the commissioners met last evening, and the applications of eleven men were received and filed. It is probable that the commissioners will meet again in the near future and choose a man. The failure of the commissioners to take any action will be a disappointment to many who wish Manchester to have a well-equipped force. The commission decided that those who have sent in applications shall before the next meeting secure a certificate from the city physician, Dr. Lawrence Ingram, which shall be sealed.

The following gentlemen compose the commission: Hon. H. A. Maurice (chairman), and Councilmen John E. Utz, M. A. Campbell, C. H. Sims, and W. T. Hart.
